Just This One Night

I know it’s just this one night
And tomorrow you won’t be here

But tonight, we touch the sky

I don’t care whose arms you’ll be in tomorrow
Let’s walk through the streets hand in hand tonight

And laugh like longtime lovers
Like it’s the most in love we’ve ever been

We look at each other
And I know we’ve no memories together
But let’s feel we’ve lived a thousand moments

Every time your neck caught my gaze
My mind took me to that instant
You were lying on the counter
Eyes free of worry, free of care

At the peak of joy

I know it’s just this one night
And tomorrow you won’t be here

But tonight, we touch the sky

I see the spark in your eyes tonight
It lights up everything around us

Let’s sing along to the song that’s playing
Like friends who’ve carried memories in every note

In the city’s restless noise
My ears full of silence
And my heart overflowing
With the taste of your lips

I know it’s just this one night
And tomorrow you won’t be here
But tonight, we touch the sky

With yearning for a past we never shared
No hope for a future together
